Check out what your BOMA Fort Worth members were up to this past week in San Antonio, Texas!

This year's BOMA International Annual Conference & Expo, which took place June 23-26 in San Antonio, Texas, was one for the record books. Property professionals from around the globe gathered for best-in-class education, unmatched networking opportunities and solutions to meet every operational challenge and enhance performance.

BOMA Chair, Rob Brierly, talking with Bush sisters Jenna Bush Hagar and Barbara Pierce Bush, at the Opening Keynote Session. Their stories of family and community connections resonated deeply with the audience.

BOMA Fort Worth was well represented by President, Allison Millington and Angelia Franklin, at the Board of Governors meeting on Sunday morning. We must give a shout out to our past president and long-time member, Scott Jones, for his new post as Chair-Elect for BOMA International. Way to go, Scott!

Henry Chamberlain, COO, BOMA International, spoke at the General Session and introduced future technology; solar powered ROBO bees. Yes, artificial intelligence to cross pollinate flowers. The possibilities with technology are endless.

The Expo offered up more than 400 exhibits by leading manufacturers and suppliers to help attendees find solutions to every operational challenge and strategies to enhance asset performance. Many BOMA Fort Worth members were there to exhibit and share their knowledge and expertise with the commercial real estate industry.

Throughout the conference BOMA Fort Worth members attended not only keynote speaker sessions and fun socials, they also were able to learn from numerous learning labs within the Expo and guest speakers during the education tracks Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The conference wrapped up on Tuesday evening with over 80 buildings hoping to win a coveted The Outstanding Building of the Year (TOBY) Award in one of the 15-categories.

Congratulations to Andrew Taylor for being recognized as Southwest Region Outstanding Member of the Year and to Peloton Commercial Real Estate for winning the prestigious Over 1 Million Square Foot TOBY Award with Bank of America Plaza!

We hope you'll join us next year in Salt Lake City, Utah for the Annual Conference & Expo June 22-25, 2019!
